

Designed for simplicity, the Microbiology Society's Publish and Read licence offers light-touch administration for librarians and a frictionless OA experience for authors.

Aiming for inclusivity, Publish and Read is a transformative vehicle enabling flexibility for all authors to publish their research regardless of individual access to funds.

Delivering compliance with funder and institutional OA policies.

Driving more OA.

 The Microbiology Society's Publish and Read helps change classic publishing models, is easy to implement, removes financial administration from the workflow of our researchers, and helps us to fulfill the Open Science agenda of our organisation.
